- ▷ Born in Wilkesboro, North Carolina.
- ▷ Chris studied history, religion and philosophy at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.
- ▷ The moment that changed this young, North Carolina native into a true sports fan came in 1981 at just six years of age, when Chris watched his first World Series.
- ▷ His intense love of sports brought Chris to the Buzz in 1998. He now hosts "The Show" from 10am to Noon each weekday.
- ▷ Career highlights include covering the Stanley Cup Finals, and of course every ACC and NCAA Tournament since he joined the station. But his best moment working with the Buzz has been the Carolina Hurricanes Stanley Cup run in 2001.
- ▷ He knows how to chat it up to the listeners of the Buzz. "It's a great job hosting on the Buzz, and I'm incredibly lucky that they pay me to do it," says Chris.
